Yorkshire Talk: A Quick Guide

Martha, Dickon, Ben Weatherstaff and Mrs. Sowerby speak the Yorkshire dialect of northern England, and later Mary and Colin try it too. Burnett wrote their words the way they sound, so we kept every word exactly as she wrote it. The first time a Yorkshire word appears, it has a green line[Y], and the workbook explains it. Here are the patterns you will meet most often.

1. DROPPED LETTERS

| | |
|---|---|
| th' · o' · an' · wi' · i' | the · of · and · with · in |
| goin' · nothin' · mornin' | going · nothing · morning (the final g of -ing is dropped) |
| 'em · 'un · 'taters | them · one · potatoes |
| mysel' · thysel' · hissel' | myself · yourself · himself |

2. THA' AND THEE = YOU

| | |
|---|---|
| tha' · thee | you (old thou, used with family, friends and children) |
| thy | your |
| tha'rt · art tha'? | you are · are you? |
| tha'll · tha'lt · tha'd · tha'st | you'll · you will · you'd · you have |

3. OTHER WORDS

| | |
|---|---|
| aye · nay · eh! | yes · no · oh! / well! |
| mun · munnot | must · must not |
| canna' · couldna' | can't · couldn't |
| nowt · summat | nothing · something |
| lad · lass · wench | boy · girl · girl |
| fair · rare | really, completely · very |
| knowed · growed · seed | knew · grew · saw (regular -ed on irregular verbs) |

> Tip: read Yorkshire speech aloud. It is much easier to understand when you hear it.
